

第2回英語俳句コンテスト

佳作

寺尾 亮人 殿

Morning glory
Shimmering in the rain
This short story

<Botsford 先生による講評>

The morning glory, a favorite flower in Japan that blooms only for a day, in this haiku is seen in its beauty “shimmering in the rain.” What’s unexpected is how the poet weds nature and literature through a rhyme—the ‘glory’ of the flower (and of morning: a nice pun) is short-lived, as a “short story.”